Making healthcare more affordable

Healia uses the power of data science, technology, and intuitive user design to reduce the cost of health insurance while providing employees a first class experience.

Simple. Transparent. Powerful.

From start to finish, Healia helps companies improve their health benefit package. We begin by using our proprietary dataset to help companies design plans that are competitive and affordable. We then deploy our technology at open enrollment to help employees pick plans that match their needs while lowering costs. Finally, we work with companies to offer a completely new health benefit, the Comprehensive Care Option, that pays 100% of out-of-pocket costs for employees while significantly reducing costs for employers.
